WASTE

We are often inclined to think that something is wasted if it does not go to someone whom we had decided upon; but it is so as a matter of fact, it is so necessary to remember that everything goes precisely where it is supposed to go. Then cannot be any 'waste', and no one guilty of wasting anything.

Everything happens precisely the way it is supposed to happen according to God's Will, according to the Cosmic Law; there cannot be any mistake, any waste, any guilt or any sin. The human being is incapable of doing any deed, but has to accept responsibility from the point of view of the society in which he lives.
